SILVER WEDDING AT BERLIN.

PARIS, Jan. 16.—The Figaro publishes a manifesto professedly issued by Prince Napoleon. The manifesto was found placarded in several quarters of Paris. The prince dwells upon the importance and incapacity of the government, the disunion of parliament and the decadence of the army and finances. He declares religion is attacked and observes that concord in it can alone establish a religious peace. The prince refuses any compromise with the royalists. He adverts to the plebiscite by which the empire was sanctioned. The manifesto was at first regarded as a hoax and many still doubt its genuineness. The Figaro has been seized. If the manifesto is genuine the prince will be ordered to quit France, and will be conducted to the frontier in the event of his refusal

PARIS, Jan. 16.—Prince Napoleon was arrested this afternoon and taken to the conciergerie.

The police tore down the manifesto.

In the chamber of deputies Jolibois, Bonapartist, interpolated the government on the subject of the arrest of Prince Napoleon. He said the issue of the manifesto was simply a press offence. The prince, he declared, only exercised his right, and the minister of justice had exceeded his authority in causing the prince's arrest.

Deves replied that the manifesto had not only been published but placarded. This fact had been brought to the attention of the judicial authorities, who in the exercise of the complete freedom of action they possessed, issued the warrant for the arrest of the prince. Deves added the matter would in due time come before the tribunals. The government was firmly resolved to see the law strictly observed by all citizens of the republic, not excepting Prince Jerome.

Floquet, republican vice-president of the chamber, brought forward a motion prohibiting the presence in France or Algeria of any members of the former French dynasties.

Martin Feuille, republican, moved the order of the day be approving the action of the government in regard to Prince Napoleon; the motion was adopted—417 to 87.

Bisacca said he was anxious to separate the personality of kings and princes from the present incident.

Loud protests followed this remark, and the president of the chamber ruled the words "kings and princes" unconstitutional. They then voted for Floquet —338 ayes to 112 noes.

The prince said he had issued the manifesto because everything was going wrong in France. That the republic had proved its incapacity for governing; it had not received the sanction of the popular vote; that the republicans were wrong in not having resorted to plebiscite a few years ago, when they would have secured five million suffrages.

Prince Napoleon denied that he had any personal interest in the matter. He said he was a supporter of scrutin de liste because he believed, under the present system, the executive was governed chiefly by local interests. He should like to see at the head of the republic a man of the nation, elected by the nation, as in the United States.

"Let the people," said the prince "appoint Grevy if they please, but at any rate free the executive from the influence of deputies elected by mere arrondisements. With the present chamber of deputies it is impossible to hope for anything, for Gambetta failed to imbue it with principles of government, and where he failed none could hope to succeed."

Prince Napoleon denied he aimed at personal power, the co-existence of which with the liberty of press, liberty of association and parliamentary control was, he said, impossible. If Count de Chambord were to attempt to ascend the throne, he —Prince Napoleon—would be the first to seize a musket and mount the barricades. The prince said he believed parliamentary regime only practicable under constitutional monarchy. He was convinced of the perfect legality of his manifesto. Competent persons, he said, approved its terms and affirmed that the placarding of it was legal.

LYONS, Jan. 16.—At the trial of the anarchists to-day, Prince Krapotkine, addressing the court in his own defence, sought to show that the so-called internationalists did not exist. Anarchical ideas he declared, were spreading, despite all efforts to suppress them. If he were condemned the result would be to attach proselytes to the cause. He had been arrested, he averred, because he was a foreigner and because it was thought desirable to gibbet an effigy of the internationalists.

The eyes of all the workmen of France and abroad are fixed upon this trial, but when it is found the internationals did not exist, they would recognize it as merely a persecution of one class by another. Prince Krapotkine concluded by predicting that ten years would not elapse without the occurrence of a social question, instead of the persecution of anarchists.

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The duke and duchess of Edinburgh started for Berlin to attend the silver wedding of the crown prince Frederick William.

Earl Munster leaves Thursday and the Prince of Wales Saturday.

Anthony Mundella, member of Parliament for Sheffield, and Joseph Chamberlain, president of the board of trade, speaking at Birmingham to-day, maintained that the educational facilities of England compared unfavorably with those of the United States.

VIENNA, Jan. 16.—A man in the uniform of a general of staff, succeeded yesterday in entering the office in St. Petersburg where the secret military plans are kept, and had almost finished copying one, when the officer in charge asked him who had ordered the copy. Owing to his confused answers he was suspected and arrested.

LYONS, Jan. 16.—At the trial of anarchists to-day, most of the accused declared themselves ready to recommence operations if set free.

BERLIN, Jan. 16.—The crown prince and princess have declined to receive any presents on the occasion of their silver wedding, and request the donors to expend the money they proposed thus using in alleviating the distress caused by inundations.

CAIRO, Jan. 16.—A telegram from official sources at Constantinople, reports that some Circassians attempted, on Sunday, to assassinate the Sultan

A woman divulged the plot, and the Albanian body guard met and defeated the Circassians in the vicinity of the Sultan's apartments. Several men were killed in the encounter.

PESTH, Jan. 16.—Six hundred houses in Mohees are flooded and half have fallen in.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—The appearance of Prince Jerome's manifesto is regarded by some as a march stolen on the legitimatists, for it was known that Count de Chambord, impelled by his supporters, was preparing a manifesto. Eighteen thousand placards have been printed with the greatest secrecy.

Baron de Ruet asked to be arrested as accessory to the promulgation of the manifesto, but the magistrate refused to take him into custody.

Reports from the provinces state that the news of the arrest of Prince Jerome created no sensation.

MADRID, Jan. 17.—Twenty-two shocks of earthquake occurred in Murcia yesterday. Several houses were destroyed.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—Policemen sent to arrest crofters in the isle of Skye, were forcibly repelled.

PARIS, Jan. 17.—Papers generally approve the arrest of Prince Napoleon, but nearly all condemn the urgency in the deputies prohibiting the presence in France or Algeria of any member of the former French dynasties.

GALWAY, Jan. 17.—Thomas Higgins and Michael Flynn were hanged this morning for complicity in the murder of Huddy. Public executioner Marwood officiated. They both walked firmly to the scaffold, and died without a struggle. Neither made a statement, but during their confinement expressed penitence. But small interest was taken in the execution, and only a few persons were present.

LYONS, Jan. 14.—The government has directed under close arrest for a month of the captain of the army who at the recent trial of anarchists insulted prisoners in the dock and exclaimed that he hoped he would soon have an opportunity of shooting some of them.

Several newspapers affirm that France is resolved to uphold her rights in Egypt and the state of the question will probably be submitted to a congress.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—The Paris announced the seizure, in Alsace-Lorraine, of its issue of the 10th containing an article commenting strongly on the report that the Alsatian deputies to the Reichstag, who attended Gambetta's funeral, would be censured and expelled by the Reichstag on their return.

The Paris remarks: "This is an honor, of which we are proud. The remains of Gambetta should be interred at the highest point of the cemetery here, so that the monument be visible from afar."

LYONS, Jan. 15.—Prisoner Gautier, one of the anarchists, admitted he had relations with Elize Reclus, and said he had as good a right to see Reclus as Rochefort had to see Parnell, or Gambetta to see the Prince of Wales.

BERLIN, Jan. 15.—Miscreants were captured near Frankenthal while trying to cut the dams, with the object of creating fresh opportunities for plunder. Soldiers repaired the mischief, thus avoiding a great disaster. The estimated losses by floods in Germany will reach eighty million marks.

A HOUSEHOLD NECESSITY.

She would not keep house without it, so says Mrs. McArthur, of Hopeville, regarding Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. This medicine is pleasant to take, and speedily cures coughs, bronchitis, asthma, weak lungs, and all Pectoral complaints. (15)

MENTAL DEPRESSION, headache, and nervous debility, are speedily remedied by that excellent blood purifying tonic, Burdock Blood Bitters. The Editor of the Mitchell Recorder states that he was cured of biliousness, liver derangement, and sick headache by the use of this medicine. (17)

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE

THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

Advice to Invalids—If you wish to obtain quiet, refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and anguish, to calm and assuage the weary achings of protracted disease, invigorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by Dr. J. Collis Browne (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE and which is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks o Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningit &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5th, 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell street, Bloomsbury, London. Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the wide-spread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a DELIBERATE BREACH OF FAITH ON THE PART OF THE CHEMIST TO PRESCRIBER AND PATIENT ALIKE. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain, His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was undoubtedly the Inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which, he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, 1864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9., 4s 6d and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Caution—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 16.—It is nearly a week since the fire and the wildest reports of the first day are fully realized. Up to 6 o'clock last night 28 bodies were recovered, and three more were found to-day by noon. All the girls in the laundry doubtless were struggling to reach the passage out into the bank building when the flames and smoke stopped them. At 2 p. m. the body of a large heavy man was found at the foot of the old entrance for ladies. He had found the head of the stairs on fire and his retreat cut off and made a leap through the sea of flames for the pavement, and struck over the wall. No means of identifying the body. The excavation extend well into the court, where it was expected to find many bodies, but they were not discovered and it is now believed that most of the inmates of the house got to the outside, and the worst is known.

Crowds about the house are increasing as the weather moderates.

Geo. Shiller, lessee of the bar-room of the Newhall House, was arrested this afternoon on the suspicion of having set fire to the hotel. Shiller says that he closed his saloon at 1:30 a.m., but it is found that in company with Will Sanderson and Tom Dunbar, he returned to the saloon after 3 a.m. The greatest excitement prevails. He did not seem very much surprised, made no statement, and when locked up was pretty badly broken up. He had been drinking heavily since the fire.

It is reported Sheller was arrested principally on the statement of Linehan and another employe. They claim they saw Shiller in the wood room where, Linehan says, the fire originated, and that he was there after 3 o'clock; a. m. The district attorney refused to let anyone see Shiller, the excuse being he was afraid an attempt would be made to lynch him.

To-night the messenger reported at the sheriff's office that excited knots were on the streets with talk of lynching. He feared there would be trouble when it became generally known Shiller is in the custody of the police, and the sheriff is prepared to defend him. Extra guards will be kept at the jail all night.

CHICAGO, Jan. 16.—Fire burned the nail factory, one of the largest in the United States, at Cummings' Station, 25 miles from Chicago. The factory and machinery cost $200,000. In addition to this was a stock of at least 15,000 kegs of nails, and probably much more, and a large and valuable collection of patterns. It was undoubtedly of incendiary origin.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 16.—The Tweddle Hall block, including the opera house Albany county bank, eight or ten retail stores and a lumber office were destroyed by fire. The property is assessed at $230,000, total loss, $300,000; insurance, $200,000.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 16.—C. Conard & Co., manufacturers of the Budweiser beer, have failed. Liabilities slightly over $500,000. The principal creditor is the Anhaeuser-Busch Brewing Co., for $94,000. It is believed the assets will be nearly a million. A meeting of creditors will be held next Monday. No definite statement has been obtained. The firm did a business of $1,500,000 yearly, and had branches in Texas, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, California and other states. Friends say the capital was too small for the business. The failure of P. V. Smith & Co., Tombstone, and the defalcation of Kissel, city treasurer of Tucson, who was the agent of Conard & Co., hastened the suspension.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 17.—Five bodies were buried to-day, among them T. B. Elliott, a prominent lawyer, who came to the hotel on the 3 o'clock train the morning of the fire. Half an hour later he jumped from the fourth story window. He broke both legs, injured his spine and died Friday. He was a prominent Mason and state representative of the United States Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows.

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The brig Imlee Kirchsshtag arrived at Brooklin to-day. She had on board six seamen who were so badly frozen as to necessitate their removal to the hospital. It is thought the feet of two or three will have to be amputated.

California.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—Judgment was rendered to-day against Rev. H. Cox—popularly known as "Hallelujah" Cox, for $2690 28, and in favor of Eliza Ely, an old lady recently from the east. It was shown on trial that shortly after her arrival in this state she met the reverend gentleman, and was induced by him to invest money in a mine, of which he was president, on the representation that the security was perfect.

A number of prominent mining men testified that the stock was worthless; that no bona fide sale had been made. Cox denied having represented the stock as valuable, but a letter was introduced showing that he had vouched for the perfect security of the investment.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 16.—A young lady, of a prominent and respectable family, recently entered a glove store on Kearney street, and seeing a package of gloves she took it. After making a few small purchases she started to go out, when her attention was called to the mistake. She indignantly asserted that the gloves belonged to her. The clerk who was in attendance told the proprietor, and at the same time suggested that the gloves were too small for the young lady. The next day she put in an appearance, with a request that the gloves be changed The head of the establishment accused her of theft, and demanded the return of the gloves under pain of arrest, whereupon the young lady began to cry, and throwing the gloves on the counter ran into the street.

South America.

PANAMA, Jan. 6.—A shipment of $100,000 was made by the sub-treasury in New York, through Wells, Fargo & Co. to the United States fleet on the Pacific, by the steamer City of Paris, which arrived at Aspinwall on the 29th ult. The money was in American gold coin, and packed in two small kegs weighing in the neighborhood of 200 pounds each. It was received in Panama the same evening and stored in the Panama railroad company's vault. Delivery was not made until Monday, the 1st. inst., when, on opening the vault, it was discovered that the keg was missing. No lock had been broken on either of the doors of the freight house in which the vault is situated, or of the vault itself. Evidence was found that the keg was opened in the freight house, but neither the keg nor any vestige of its valuable contents could be discovered after a long and careful search. All possible measures were taken to discover the thieves or booty, but without complete success. Several arrests were made.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—Rear Admiral Hughes, commanding the Pacific station, reports the loss of $50,000 of the money shipped to Panama, to inspector Parks, and approves Parks' suggestion that another $50,000 by shipped, as the exchange on Panama is two per cent.

The stolen $50,000 was insured by Wells, Fargo & Co., and will not be lost by the government.

Canada.

LEAMINGTON, Ont., Jan. 16.—Last night a safe in the postoffice was robbed of $300 cash and $200 worth of stamps. The dry goods store of Bee & Co. was also visited and $1500 in cash and $1000 worth of silks and jewelry and a number of securities were taken. The thieves are supposed to have escaped to the United States.

LONGUEVILLE STATION, Ont., Jan. 16.—An ice bridge and railway is connected with the Southeastern railway and 25 car have crossed.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Jan. 16.—Assets of the bankrupt bank of Prince Edward's Island, $350,000. It is thought the bank will pay half its liabilities.

MONTREAL, Jan. 15.—It is reported a project is on foot to unite the Grand Trunk, North Shore and Rome and Watertown railways with the Richelieu and St. Lawrence Navigation companies in a general traffic combination for monopolising all the land and water trade of the St. Lawrence route.

MESSRS. PARKES AND LAIRD, of Hillsdale, write:—"Our Mr. Laird having occasion to visit Scotland, and knowing the excellent qualities of Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil, concluded to take some with him, and the result has been very astonishing. We may say that in several instances it has effected cures when ailments had been pronounced incurable by eminent practitioners." 66

[Special to The Colonist.]

GRANVILLE, Jan. 18.

The body of Long Sing, a Chinaman, who has been working in the logging camp of Moodyville Saw Mill Company, was brought down yesterday and an inquest held to-day. Evidence went to show that some men who went in search of him found the body under a tree with a scarf round its neck. It is supposed he had climbed a tree and tied the scarf to a limb and then let himself drop, but that it gave way and he died afterwards. The verdict rendered was "that deceased came to his death from strangulation supposed by his own hand."

NEW WESTMINSTER, Jan. 18.

Barque Don Nicholas sailed from San Francisco for Departure Bay January 16th.

GAM LUN TAY.—This firm, with factories in Canton and Hongkong and a mercantile establishment at San Francisco, have opened a large store on Cormorant street, above Government. They have the most valuable and extensive stock of teas ever imported to the province—fancy teas that range from 35 cents to $6 75 per pound. Who would not be a tea-drinker under those circumstances.

THE STEAMER ROBERT DUNSMUIR.—Yesterday morning the steamer Ada, Capt. Rogers, arrived in port with the hull of the new steamer R. Dunsmuir. The Ada also brought a cargo of shingles. Her machinery will be transferred to the Robert Dunsmuir, which will also be furnished with a new boiler at the Albion works. The Dunsmuir will then in turn tow the Ada back to New Westminster.

SOLICITOR.—Mr. Harry Dallas Helmcken, son of Hon. Dr. Helmcken, of this city, having passed his examination and been admitted a solicitor at Toronto, gives notice in the Gazette of his intention to apply for admission to practice in the Supreme Court of British Columbia.

PRINTING PRESS FOR FORT SIMPSON.—Among the cargo of the Prince Rupert is a small Albion hand printing press, with material, directed to the bishop of Caledonia at Fort Simpson.

What Some People Say.

That Hon. Mr. Trutch will not leave for Ottawa by to-morrow's steamer.

That a Canadian paper says that Jews are the longest lived people. The mortality among infants, so great everywhere, and said to be unusually so in Montreal, is among the Hebrews but ten per cent. The mean age of Jewish life is given as forty-eight years. One-fourth of them live to be seventy-one, and another fourth survive to see their sixtieth year.

That Grant is spoken of as the presidential candidate in 1884 of the Republican party. It is alleged that the railroad and manufacturing corporations, banks, rings, speculators, jobbers, contractors, shoddy princes and adventurers, that swarmed about the White House from 1870 to 1877, will rally and put forth all their power to elect Grant.

That the Cape Ann Advertiser, of Gloucester, Massachusetts, figures that 275 barrels of mackerel were taken in the Bay of St. Lawrence last year by the schooner Yankee Lass, the only United States vessel that fished in provincial waters. It cost the United States, by a remission of the duties and interest on the Halifax award, not less than $1,400 per barrel.

That the Jersey Lily made $19,000 in Chicago. She visited the stockyards before leaving. Relating her experience there, she said: "I saw a large hog there with red hair, whose appearance reminded me very much of Mr. (naming a reporter on a morning paper, whose articles about her incensed her very much,) and do you know, I was so glad to see him pulled up and killed before I left."

DAYTON, W. T., Jan. 15.—The preliminary examination of J. M. McPherson and Ezra Snodderly, two of the parties accused by Owenby in his confession of having been accessory to the murder of Cummins, was held to-day before L. D. Drake, justice of the peace. Both were committed without bail to await the action of the grand jury in June. Owenby swore that he and McPherson laid plans in April and that Snodderly was spoken to subsequently. The Sunday before the murder he met Snodderly near Snodderly's father's house, and told him the date fixed to get the money. Owenby and McPherson committed the murder and got $1600. McPherson was cashier and paid Owenby $600.

It appears that McPherson told Owenby that he had to pay Porter $200 for a revolver and to keep his mouth shut, thereby beating Owenby out of that much. It is thought Porter will be exonerated. They all decline to make statements to the associated press reporter.

McPherson owns a farm near Pomeroy and had been teaming to New York bar. He is perhaps 40 years old, large in stature and honest looking. He has a family. Snodderly is a single man about thirty years.

THE POINT ROBERTS MURDER.—On further inquiry the man Harris turns out to have been the aggressor, he was the owner of the shot gun and started out to run Mitchell off. It seems he fired at Mitchell who then seized the gun, took it away and killed Harris with it. The difficulty occurred on Saturday last and the man died on Sunday. He was an old Texan ranger and was very much disliked by his neighbors.

FREAKS OF THE FROST.—Some curious illustrations of the freaks of the frost in forming tracings of foliage, etc., on glass from condensed vapour were to be seen last evening on the windows of Moore & Co., druggists, Yates street, where several large sprays were formed with such regularity and distinctness that they might have served for elegant designs.

FOR BURRARD INLET.—In consequence of ice running in the Fraser the Princess Louise will go to the Inlet this trip.

NOTARY PUBLIC.—Pierce Stevens Hamilton, Esq., barrister-at-law, has been appointed a notary public.

Coal Trade of San Francisco.

The deliveries of coal at San Francisco for the year now drawing to a close have been quite large, fully up to those for 1881. According to the private circular of J. W. Harrison, the receipts for the past year were about 846,000 tons as follows:

Coos Bay and Renton, tons	39,100
Carbon Hill	54,400
Seattle	146,300
Mount Diablo	80,200
Eastern (Cumberland and Anthracite	48,500
British Columbia	151,800
English and Welsh	138 575
Scotch	23,878
Australian	163,128
Total	845,880

There have been radica changes in the sources of supply as compared with 1881 The quantity from England shows a falling off of 92,400 tons, while from Australia there has been a gain of 39,500 tons, and from British Columbia and Puget Sound a gain of 62,600 tons. The quantity of foreign coals now on route is unusually light, and should the harvest outlook be unsatisfactory, prices will be affected favorably to the holding interest.

AFTER THE INDIAN-KILLERS.

A Caution to Premier Beaven.

The New York World of Jan. 15th says that Capt. Merriman is a big Indian and acted like one. No doubt the shelled Indians would subscribe to this view just now, whatever they may have thought of him before. The English war with the ruder races of mankind can hardly be held up as a model before American eyes, and the plain duty of the Washington government is to invite Merriman and the other big Indians, who so kindly abdicated command of his vessel that it might be used for gathering blankets, to give a plain straitforward account of their doings. W. G. Morris, collector of customs for Alaska, should also be called upon to state what he knows concerning this alleged Indian custom of furnishing blankets to poor white men under pain of shot and shell. It is a form of protection to the home industries of Alaska.

Yale.

The verdict of the coroner's jury in the case of Michael Spear was that he came to his death from injuries received in falling from the top of a bluff near the Big Tunnel.

Mr. Ferguson is progressing favorably with the tunnel work nearly opposite Hope, and expects to finish up by early spring. The rain storm stopped the grade work near Hope, the Chinese having "bucked" against the wet. The bridge work is suspended for the present. At McColl's Lake, below Hope, F. Crotty is getting out timber to do some pile-driving. The track is laid about three miles below Emory. The completion of a cut and a little bridging will enable the track to be laid down as far as Union Bar, within two miles of Hope.

Potter has suspended mining for the present, on account of the weather. He done very well at the Murphy Bros. diggings all fall and will take hold again in the spring.

C. P. R. R.—Mr. A. J. McLellan leaves this morning for Oregon to engage choppers, hewers and carpenters to work on the Yale-Savona railway. He will be back in two or three weeks.

FROM THE SOUND.—Yesterday about 12:30 the steamer North Pacific arrived from the Sound with passengers and freight, the latter amounting to 52 tons.

SELLING LIQUOR TO MINORS.—An information has been laid against James Ferguson for selling liquor to minors. The case will come up at the police court on Monday.

THE committee of the P. O. Home beg to acknowledge with thanks the sum of five dollars from a friend at Yale, per Mrs. Munro.

The Royal Party in Richmond.

NEW YORK, Jan. 16.—The Herald's Richmond special says: Mayor Carrington this afternoon published a very modest and well-tempered request that a number of the leading citizens, representing city and the native and foreign elements, would unite with him in rendering such reception as would be found agreeable to the Marquis and to the Princess Louise. It is understood, however, they positively decline any reception whatever. They simply remain here to take needed rest, on account of their long and wearisome travel. They came in a special train, consisting of the Princess' own private car, a colonial car, a Pullman and a baggage car.

RICHMOND, Va., Jan. 16.—The Marquis of Lorne and Princess Louise and suite arrived to night from Louisville. Quite a large crowd were at the depot. The vice-regal party drove to the Exchange and to the Ballard Hotel, where special and extensive preparations had been made. The parlors occupied by the party are the same as those used by the Prince of Wales and suite, when he visited Richmond in 1860. The distinguished visitors will remain here probably two days. To-morrow, during the forenoon, they will remain at the hotel and receive the mayor of the city and the president of the two branches of the city council, a committee of leading citizens appointed by the mayor, a committee of six of the Sir Walter Raleigh Lodge, Sons of St. George, and such other citizens as may call. In the afternoon the party will be driven to places of interest in the city.

CHARLESTON, Jan 16.—Officers of the Dido expected to find the Princess here, awaiting them. They experienced very heavy weather on the trip from Bermuda. The Dido is a small corvette of 1960 tons burden. She has two 64-pound guns and a crew of 220 men. The after cabins have been fitted up into five rooms for the Princess and party. Many civilities are being extended to the officers. A deer hunt is being arranged for Thursday.

FIFTY dozen children's Ulsters and Dolmans; 5000 yards table linen at 50 cents; 1000 doz. linen napkins, large size, $2 per doz.; black Cashmere, the best value in town and an endless variety of lace collars. Ruffles, including the latest success. The Mitford, bear trimming, Angora goat, &c. We have an immense stock of staple and fancy goods suitable for the present season and at very much lower prices than elsewhere. As verbosity is tedious to the reader enough said,

EXPLOSION OF A PUGET SOUND STEAMBOAT.

Several Lives Lost.

On Tuesday about noon the Josephine, a small steamboat plying between Seattle and Skagit river, blew up at Port Suson, 50 miles from Seattle, killing the captain, purser and six or eight other persons. The boiler was carrying 90 pounds of steam, according to the statement of the engineer, who was at dinner with the purser and passengers when the boiler exploded. Miss Bradish, a passenger, says she was at dinner when the explosion occurred. The purser, Robt. Turner, was at the head of the table, immediately on her left, and directly opposite of her was E. E. Cannon. In view of the fact that Turner and Cannon were both killed instantly, Miss Bradish considers her escape from death as simply miraculous. The explosion was sudden and terrific, and Miss Bradish remembers the blinding crash, but nothing more. She was unconscious when taken out of the water, and remained so until conveyed to the Indian cabins on the beach. When she rallied from her stunned condition she was unable to comprehend or realize the terrible calamity that had transpired. As she expresses it, it seemed that it was a dazed, uncertain dream, horrible in its import, but the terrible magnitude of which she could fully comprehend. She soon discovered that the thigh bone of her leg was broken and shattered and the ankle of the left leg discolated, besides numerous cuts and bruises about the head and face.

A. G. KELLY,

For many years a resident on the Skagit, two miles below Skagit city, was on his return home from Seattle. He, too, was at the dinner table, and the purser, who sat near him, had been carving the meat and was in the act of placing a slice on Mr. Kelley's plate when the explosion occurred. Mr. Kelley's right leg was broken and shattered below the knee, and he was the last of the wounded that was taken from the wreck. He had abandoned all hope of ever getting out alive, but summing up all his remaining strength, he dragged himself to a small opening that appeared and was assisted into the boat. It will be several weeks before he can possibly be discharged from the hospital.

CHAS. HOLT

testified that he did not know what steam they were carrying at the time of the explosion. He felt uneasy all day, and several times expressed the desire to his friend to be off of her. Did not know why unless it was a presentiment of danger; it was blowing hard at the time; he heard after the explosion, one of the crew say that after the engineer went to dinner there was 105 pounds of steam on.

E. E. CANNON,

As previously stated, was a commercial traveller, representing the firm of Bates, Reed & Cooley, of New York. His case too, is a peculiarly sad one. He was making his last trip, and on his return to San Francisco, expected to retire from the business and return to his family away back in Lackawanna county, Pennsylvania. His concern for the welfare of his dear ones at home was made evident by an incident that will, in view of the sad events, prove fortunate. He had been accustomed to carry a life insurance policy, and on Saturday last it expired. He immediately repaired to Capt. W. H. Taylor's office in this city, and had the policy renewed to the amount of $3500, and in Capt. Taylor's presence wrote a letter and enclosed it with the policy and addressed it to his wife, at Peckville, Lackawanna county, Pa. It is presumed that this is the last letter or message that he sent to those dear ones so far away. Sad, sad, indeed, will be the message that will reach them long before that last written letter shall have arrived at its destination. Mr. Cannon was well known in commercial circles on this coast. He was a man of manly bearing, and was evidently much attached to his family and friends. The deep, frightful gash over his left temple and the horribly mangled condition of his body, tells us that his death was instantaneous.

ROBERT BAILEY,

Acting captain of the Josephine, was probably killed instantly. Bob Bailey, as he was familiarly called, was an experienced pilot, and had served several years in that capacity. He was about 25 years of age and lives at Skagit Heads. His brother is in command of the steamer Daisy, plying on the lower Sound.

ROBERT TURNER

Was well-known on the Sound as a steady, thoroughly reliable man. He was purser on the Josephine when commanded by Capt. Merwin, but was only temporarily in that capacity during the unfortunate trip. He went on the trip in place of Mr. Newton Hartman, the regular purser. Mr. Turner was about 50 years of age. Several years ago he was proprietor of several stage lines in Nebraska and Iowa. At one time he was mayor of Sioux City, Iowa, and owned over $100,000 worth of property in that state. He was a graduate of Oberlin college, Ohio, and was considered an excellent business man. He was to have had the position of purser on Capt. Merwin's new boat, now building.

SAM CAVANAUGH,

The fireman, was about 20 years old and the reputed son of the late Gen. Jeff C. Davis. His mother, an intelligent, well-educated Indian woman, yet resides on Fidalgo Island.

DAVID SPARKS,

Assistant steward, was about nineteen years old. His parents reside at Port Ludlow. Only a few days ago his father asked permission of Capt. Fitz Dobbins that his son, who had been absent for the past ten months, be allowed a leave of absence to visit his parents. The request was granted, and Dave was to have made the visit on the return trip of the Josephine. His body was not recovered.

JOHNSON,

Whose given name was not obtained, has been in the country but a few weeks, and he leaves a wife in this city to mourn his untimely death. Mr. Johnson was at the wheel when the explosion took place, and was probably killed instantly.

IN THE DEEP.

The bodies of six of the unfortunate victims were not recovered at the time. There is a rumor current, however, that three bodies were yesterday recovered by the Indians living in the neighborhood of Pullalip. This is simply a report, and lacks confirmation.

THE WRECK

Is reported by the crew of the Idaho to be scattered for mile miles along the east Sound, portions of the same having floated as far up as Mukilto at least fifteen miles from the scene of the disaster.

The Politkofsky went down last night to the scene of the wreck to recover the remaining dead, if possible. She will probable return some time to-day.

PROSPECTING FOR REMAINS.

The steamer Politkofsky has been chartered by Capt. Mervin, J. B. Ball, Newton Hartman, Fred Dibbon and others, and will start this morning on a tour of inspection, to see if other bodies can be recovered, and also to recover any valuables that may still be afloat. A special correspondent of this paper will accompany the party, and full particulars of the result of the cruise will be published in these columns.

THE DEAD.

Time has not demonstrated that any others were killed, further than those mentioned in these columns yesterday morning. Eight, all told, six belonging to the steamer and two passengers. The names of the killed, so far as reported, are as follows:

John Turner, purser of the steamer; Robert Bailey, acting captain and pilot; Amador Bolina, steward of the boat, who leaves a wife and family in this city; David Sparks, assistant steward; Johnson, a deck hand who was at the wheel at the time of the explosion; Sam Cavanaugh, fireman; E. E. Cannon, a commercial man, representing the dry goods firm of Bates, Reid & Cooley, of New York, who leaves a wife and two children in San Francisco; Sam Babbitt, a stranger, on his way to Skagit to take up land.

RUMORS.

Several rumors circulated to some extent yesterday—one to the effect that the boat had been struck by a whale, and knocked to pieces; and the other that some one was attempting to smuggle giant powder over the route, labelled as apples or something else, and that it had exploded and wrecked the boat. There is a possibility that there may be some foundation for this latter theory, but it is hardly probable.

The case is one that should be thoroughly investigated, so that the truth may be known.

WIGGINS' STORM ONLY SIX DAYS BEHIND TIME.

FIERCE TORNADO AT TACOMA, W. T., ON TUESDAY.

[Seattle Chronicle.]

From all accounts the gale on the upper Sound Tuesday night, was the most violent ever known in this section. About ten o'clock the wind set in from the northwest and it was not long before serious results to shipping was anticipated, and before midnight the anticipations were sternly realized. It appears that the elements concentrated their force in and about Commencement Bay. Vessels that were anchored at Tacoma sustained serious damages. The ship Dudley, partially loaded, broke away from the buoy and was driven with great violence into the beach between the coal bunkers and the precipitous bluff on the south, tearing away a portion of the bunkers, and doing great damage to the ship's rigging. The steam tug Tacoma yesterday morning cleaned up the handsome sum of $5000 salvage for hauling the Dudley off the beach. The Dudley's damage will approximate close on to $15,000.

The handsome ship Henry Failing was driven broadside into the beach at Tacoma, and coming in contact with the Oriental and Dashing Wave, had one of her spars broken and sustained other damages.

The Oriental, Capt. Burns, parted her lines as though they were mere threads, and was driven violently into the beach, her timbers intermingling with the spars and masts of other vessels. She was loaded with ship timbers for Shanghai, and was nearly ready to sail. She will probably be compelled to discharge a large portion of her cargo before the necessary repairs can be made. The friends of Captain Burns will regret seriously to hear of this misfortune.

Ship Dashing Wave was also injured to some extent. Also the Carrolton was slightly injured. The master of the latter vessel was seriously injured while endeavoring to protect his ship.

The local steamers Welcome and Otter also fared badly in the general melee and confusion that prevailed. They were wedged in among the deep water vessels, and were badly stove in and jammed.

It is estimated that $75,000 will not cover the entire damage sustained to vessels and shipping. Our informant states that deep water vessels were driven before the gale with both anchors dragging.

Fortunately, none of the vessels will be a total loss, as at first appeared imminent.

(Per Steamer North Pacific.)

At the Assizes on the 5th inst. the case of Eva Woods, charged with felonious shooting, with intent, was concluded, the jury returning a verdict of not guilty. It will be remembered that Eva Woods went to the home of Wentworth Day and demanded that he carry out a marriage promise, which he did not appear inclined to do, although she had two children, of whom she swore he was the father. In the altercation she drew a revolver and shot Day twice, once nearly fatally. Day did not wish to prosecute.

The truce in the Luard-Scott towel affair, resultant upon the decision of the Minister of Militia releasing Major Scott from arrest, promises to be only temporary. The Major's friends regard his release as tantamount to an adverse verdict, followed by a free pardon.

A commissioner from the Imperial government has arrived at Ottawa to negotiate with the Dominion government in connection with the project for promoting emigration from Ireland.

The Albo-Carbon Light.

The use of it reduces your gas bill nearly one half, and it is nearly as cheap as coal oil lighting.

Softness, brilliancy and steadiness of light are obtained.

THE FIRE FIEND IN ST. PETERSBURG.

CIRCUS BUILDING BURNED.

Two Hundred and Sixty-Eight Lives Lost.

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 16.—The loss of life by the burning of a circus in Berditscheff on Saturday is not as great as at first reported, but it is believed that over 150 persons perished. The fire broke out towards the end of the performance. It was caused by the careless handling of fireworks on the stage. The curtain became ignited, the flames quickly spread to the walls and roof. Members of the orchestra were among the victims. The audience, numbering 800, rushed to the front door, which opened inwards. They then made for the two side doors, but both were nailed up, compelling the people to take to the windows, from which many sprang into the street with their clothes a sheet of flames. The fire brigade arrived within half an hour, but it was impossible to extinguish the flames as the water in the tanks was frozen. The fire lasted two hours. An eye witness states that when the doors were finally opened a mass of burning persons were visible within. The horses of the circus were all destroyed. The circus was a wooden structure. The horses running about wildly increased the confusion. It is stated now that 400 persons were suffocated, crushed or burned to death.

The ice broke while the fire brigade was crossing the river, thus preventing them from reaching the fire more promptly.

It is estimated 90 men, 120 women and 60 children lost their lives. The victims include the colonel of police and vice-president of the Berditscheff bourse. The audience consisted mainly of Jews.

Another account says the fire was caused by a groom having thrown a lighted cigarette on the straw in the stables, setting it on fire. Another groom tried to stamp out the fire, but a strong draught fanned the flames and caused them to spread. The author of the fire perished, also two clowns, believed to be Englishmen.

Yesterday a man, whose wife and three children are among the victims, stabbed a senior member of the merchants' guild in the street and then tried to cut his own throat. It is supposed the murdered man abandoned the assailant's wife and children in order to effect his own escape from the building.

The Russian Bayard.

Michael Dimitritch Skobeleff was born on the 20th of September, 1843, and had thus barely attained his thirty-ninth year. He did not come of an old or noble Russian family, though his father was a General, and had won considerable reputation as a cavalry commander in the campaign against Turkey in 1824. Baron Stuart, Russian Minister at Bucharest, himself, as his name indicates, of Scotch descent, informed a common friend that the elder Skobeleff was the grandson of a Scotch emigrant to Russia, Skobie by name. I remember asking your Skobeleff as to the truth of this report, whereupon he replied:—"I believe there is some thing in it, but I make little account of genealogical trees. Mere family never made a man great. Thought and deed alone, not pedigree, are the passports to enduring fame." Young Skobeleff's general education was received mainly at home, on the paternal estate of Spasskage and at Moscow, under the superintendence of his mother, and with the assistance of a tutor of French nationality. Skobeleff was warmly attached to his tutor, who remained as a friend of the family, at Spasskaje, till the close of his brilliant pupil's too-short life. I had frequent opportunities of meeting with this excellent man. Possessing little of the sprightliness of his race, he was reserved, shy, and unobstrusive in the presence of strangers, but en famile frank and animated in conversation, which displayed, though not pedantically, his profound learning and varied reading. It was easy to see under what influence Skobeleff had developed the taste for letters which he had inherited from his mother. . . . About 6 feet 2 inches in height, well proportioned, square shouldered, he had a firmly knit body, muscular and lithe rather than scout, clean limbs, with free and graceful movements. His hand was not large, but sinewy, with the nervous grip denoting ready decision and warmth of heart. A woman would have described his face as handsome, and it was manly in every lineament. With short-peaked, fair, almost golden, whiskers, the clean shaven chin and well cut mouth almost covered by a long silky moustache, indicated great firmness of purpose and strength of will. His nose was large, straight, finely-moulded, and not too prominent The flexible nostrils dilated in the excitement of battle or animated discourse; this, and the flashing light of his bright blue eyes being the only indications of the volcanic energy of the man. His forehead was lofty, rounded rather than broad, and his head, covered with short, silky, golden hair of a fine dome shape. On foot his tall and graceful presence, his free, open, and courteous manner, riveted attention. One felt instinctively that he was face to face with a king among men. He was the best horseman I ever saw bestride a thorough-bred, and his splendid personal bearing at the head of a column of cavalry or the central figure of a brilliant staff fully realized one's idea of the knightly character. His mount was a white or light-grey thoroughbred. In a campaign he had always three remounts of these white chargers which were bred on his own estate at Spasakaje. His attachment to his horses was as that of an Arab, and next to cruelty to man nothing roused him more than inattention to his equine favorites. He admired the English thoroughbred as the most perfect of the equine species, and declared that the best cavalry horses in the world were a cross between it and the horse Ukraine. From his white uniform and white charger he received among his Turkish foes the name of Aak Pasha. Wherever the fire was hottest or the combat most deadly there was the Aak, or White Pasha, and Skobeloff came to be regarded by the superstitious Turkish soldiery as a species of demon with a charmed life. This reputation, by the way, was not confined to the Turkish army, though with the simple Russian soldiers his charmed life was believed to be due to the special interposition of Saint Demetrius. A Sister of Mercy, who was a nurse in one of the field hospitals in the ravine close to the Lovacha-road at Plevna, told me that a wounded soldier whom she was tending had solemnly assured her that nothing could hurt the General. The bullet which had shattered the arm had, he said, first passed clean through the General, but as usual without injuring him in the slightest.—W. Kinnaird Rose, in Fortnightly Review.

VICTORIA, B. C., 5th January, 1883.

His Worship the Mayor and City Councillors:

GENTLEMEN,—Herewith I beg to hand you Balance Sheet, Statement of Cash Assets and Liabilities and Cash Statement of Receipts and Expenditure for the year ending 31st December, 1882; also, Balance Sheet, Statement of Revenue collected and disbursed, and Interest and Sinking Fund Account of Victoria Water Works. These accounts will explain themselves, and I need only call your attention to one item in the Corporation Cash Statement, viz: Street Lighting, the actual amount paid during the year being $3133 93. This sum has to be increased $645, being the amount due and placed to credit of the Gas Co. for the balance of the year, making the total street lighting for the year $3778 93.

I am much pleased to report that the present Council show a balance of $3744 81 Cash Assets over Liabilities. This has, I believe, not occurred for many years. The total gain during the year is as follows:

Balance Cash Liabilities over Assets 31st Dec., 1881	$4,126 12
Balance Cash Assets over Liabilities 31st Dec., 1882	3,744 81
Total gain made during the year	$7,870 93

In conclusion, I may add that the only claims that might be called outstanding, to go against this gain, will be the Rock Crusher ordered from England and a contract let to Willis Bond of $146.

I remain, Gentlemen, your obedient servant,
JAMES D. ROBINSON, Auditor.
